

DEATH.—The Newport News denies the charge of the Herald, that Sheriff Douglas packed the Jury that tried Gov. Dorr; a fact abundantly shown by Mr. Dorr and his counsel at the trial. But the certificate is worthless, for the maker of it, young Cranston, happened to be a drummer, or outsider to Douglas, in perfect up the Jury. In feeling touched by our allusion to this old matter, Cranston has shown far more sense of shame than we thought he was capable of. We never heard any complaint of the treatment of Mr. Dorr in prison by the Sheriff, or by the jailor, Mr. Tugger, of whose family Mr. D. has often spoken with kindness. But it was thought the Sheriff made more haste than was necessary in removing Mr. Dorr to Providence to be inclosed for life, before he had time to finish matters of writing and business then in hand; for which a short time was allowed him by the warden at Providence before final commitment. — Prov. Herald.

We do not know who the scribbler of the Herald is, neither do we care. He is a profligate liar, and there is not one word of truth in anything which he utters in regard to this matter, particularly what he says of the editor of this paper. In substantiation of our assertion, we appeal to Pitman's report of Dorr's trial, and also to the surviving Judges of the Supreme Court, as well as to Attorney General Blake, his assistant, Mr. Bosworth, Sheriff Douglas and Deputy Sheriff Howland. They will all show the falsity of the charge of the editor of the Herald.

WE call the attention of our lady readers to the new and splendid stock of goods received yesterday morning, direct from Paris, by Ira French, corner of Thames and Church streets. Among these are some truly splendid styles of Parisian bonnets, of exquisite workmanship, and the richest material, which Mr. French is selling at exceedingly low prices. He has also a large and beautiful assortment of the latest styles of ribbons, together with a great variety of other Summer goods. The ladies should by all means call and examine them. He has also several beautiful styles of gentlemen's straw hats, for summer wear; they are light and comfortable and very neat, and what is better still, very cheap.

Judge Trevett's warm and cold water bath, on the Long Wharf, are now open daily; nothing is more conducive to health than frequent bathing, and people cannot be too particular in regard to the cleanliness of their persons, especially during the summer season.

An Irishman by the name of Michael Hovey was stabbed yesterday morning, about 12 o'clock, at the corner of the Custom House wharf, by another named Dennis Toomy. They had some words together and we learn that a blow was struck by Hovey, when Toomy drew a knife and stabbed Hovey in the arm and side several times. Hovey's wounds were dressed by Dr. Cotton, and although he is not badly cut, we learn that he is not considered to be dangerously injured. Toomy was immediately arrested by officer Watson, and committed to Jail.

WALNUT ST. HOUSE, CINCINNATI.—The traveller in pursuit of pleasure or business in the West will find the Walnut street House, in Cincinnati, under the excellent proprietorship of Messrs. J. W. Sweeney and O. H. Gelfoy, complete in every requisite of convenience and comfort. The Manager, Mr. W. C. Trumbull, is a New Yorker, and thoroughly understands the wants of the travelling public; he will be found a valuable assistant in business matters. The house is located on Walnut st. near Seventh, is large and airy; has the best of attendants, and gives an excellent table. Although opened only in September last, it already takes rank among the foremost, and is well patronized. Success attend it. — N. Y. Tribune.

QUESTION FOR MRS. PARTINGTON.—A correspondent asks the old lady the following question:

What would be the consequence if an irresistible force should come in contact with an immovable body?

We handed the problem to Mrs. Partington, who took several pinches of snuff before she gave her opinion. "My dear old man," said the old lady, and there was an expression as profound as could be worn by the whole family of Harvard College, "my dear about it is that one or 'other of 'em must get hurt!"

Love for the Union is very natural and becoming in a person chosen to the U. S. Senate for six years. If the Union doesn't last, the Senator's "occupation's gone." — Boston Post.

MEDICAL PRACTICE.—A suit was tried in the Superior Court, yesterday, brought by a physician named Ab. Creveling, against Jared L. Moore, executor, to recover for medical services to the late Mrs. Frances Coy, for a series of years. The items of the bill consisted of 400 visits at $5 per visit; 250 visits at $2 per visit, and the balance for attending sundry patients at the request of the deceased.

A curious fact in medical practice came out during the trial, namely, that it was customary for doctors to charge rich patients high prices, in order to compensate themselves for services rendered to patients who could pay nothing. The Court, however, did not consider the practice to be in accordance with fair dealing, although it might certainly account for items which sometimes appear in surgeons' bills.

The Jury gave a verdict for plaintiff, with $1863. — N. Y. Mirror.

A PETITIONED CORPSE IN WISCONSIN.—The Fond du Lac Journal relates the following very extraordinary case of a rapid petrification:

"On the 20th of August, 1847, Mrs. Phelps, wife of our informant, Abner P. Phelps, died and was buried at Oak Grove, in Dodge Co. On the 11th of April last, she was taken up to be removed to Strong's Landing. The coffin was found to be very heavy, and the body to retain its features and proportions. After its removal to Strong's Landing, a distance of forty-five miles, the body was examined and found to be wholly petrified—converted to a substance resembling a light colored stone. Upon trial, edge tools made no more impression upon it than upon marble. In striking upon the body with metal, a hollow ringing sound was produced.

The disease by which she came to her death was chill fever and dropsy, and when the body was buried it was very much swollen. The ground in which she had been buried was a yellowish loam, and the body was about three feet above the lime rock."

THE METHODIST CHURCH CASE.—The great Methodist Episcopal Church case came on before the U. S. Circuit Court in N. Y., on Monday. The history of this suit is briefly this: In 1844 and 1845, the agitation in the Methodist Episcopal Church on the subject of slavery, and the consequent suspension of one of the Ministers and one of the Bishops of that Church, for holding slaves, which they alleged they could not manumit, caused a division of the church, and the M. E. Church North, South, and the M. E. Church North. This movement, at first, seems not to have been objected to by the Church North; but, when the Church South appointed commissioners to arrange the separation, divide the funds, &c. between the two churches, the Northern body raised constitutional objections, and refused to make any division of the great funds of the church, or to recognize the separating act of the Southern delegates.

The object of this suit is, to compel the northern body, who hold possession of "The Book Concern," as it is termed, the centre of whose operations is in N. Y., and control the fund amounting to $750,000, to divide that fund, or appropriate a due proportion of its assets to the use of the M. E. Church South. It is, therefore, a case of very great importance to the whole body of Episcopal Methodists in the U. S. The able counsel have been provided on either side, and the question will be severely contested. Reverdy Johnson, D. D. Lord, and Mr. Webster are for the plaintiffs, the Church South; and Geo. Wood, Rufus Choate, and Thomas Ewing for the defendants, the Church North.

SUDDEN INTERUPTION OF A LADY'S TOILET.—A few days since, a lady in St. Louis was engaged before her mirror in going through her toilet exercises, when the glass suddenly reeled from her, as the entire front wall of the building parted company with its neighbor, and with a tremendous crash fell into the street. The lady, in utter astonishment at the suddenness of the motion, was left standing in dishabille, though, singularly enough, entirely uninjured. In consequence of the recent grading of the street, the earth beneath the wall had been partially removed, and its sudden giving way was the cause of the accident.

General Foote has accepted the nomination for Governor of Mississippi. The friends of the Union in that State have presented him with a pair of high-blooded horses and an elegant carriage, with which to make his campaign in behalf of Union principles.

The Virginia Colonization Society's agent has received 300 applications from free negroes, to go to Liberia. A portion will be sent by the next expedition.

SUIT FOR FREEDOM DECIDED.—The chancery suit brought by Clarissa, a mulatto woman held as a slave, to assert her freedom, against B. E. Perry and wife, who claimed to be her owners, and which has been for some time pending in the Franklin Circuit Court, was last week decided in favor of Clarissa, and a decree establishing her freedom rendered by Judge McHenry. The chief ground upon which the counsel for the complainant relied was that some twelve years ago, Clarissa, by consent of a former owner, was taken to and detained in Pennsylvania some seven months, contrary to the statute of that State, which abolished slavery there, and which allowed sojourners to retain slaves within the State, as personal attendants, only six months. The case will probably be taken to the Court of Appeals.

The suit was originally brought by Judge McKee, as counsel for Clarissa, but it has latterly been conducted by Messrs. J. & W. L. Harlan and W. L. Callender for complainant, and Messrs. Reed and Leavy for defendant.

Those editors that denounce the fugitive slave law upon the ground that it is a negro really entitled to be free, should be returned under its operation, he would have no chance to assert his freedom in a slave State, may find in this case, and in hundreds of like cases which have occurred, a practical and conclusive refutation of their teachings. — Frankfort (Ky.) Commonwealth.

U. S. The Hon. Charles Sumner, Senator elect from Massachusetts, in a letter of acceptance of some length, to the Massachusetts Legislature, says he accepts his office as a friend of the Union, &c.

It is worthy of note, again and again, that many of the men, both North and South, who are doing their utmost to sow the seeds of irreconcilable dissension in the Union, profess to be its greatest friends. The loudest Unionists at the Astor House Legislative dinner were Gov. Seward and Mr. Stanton, an Abolition lecturer; and yet, when almost fresh from that dinner, Mr. Seward indited his now celebrated Abolition Letter to the Massachusetts Mob on Boston Common, then urging on the people to a violent resistance to the surrender of Sims, the Savannah negro. Almost all the Mississippi and Alabama Disunionists and Secessionists, we note also profess great devotion to the Union; and it is urged, even in South Carolina, that in order to preserve the Constitution and the Union South Carolina must the other States come to South Carolina's terms.

The time is past, we apprehend, when the people are to be deceived by singing ovals to the Union. What is demanded now are deeds, not words—votes, not professions; and he who does all he can to make the north hate the South, or the South hate the North, is a Disunionist, however vociferous may be his windy words in behalf of the Union. — N. Y. Express.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA TREASON.—Somebody proposes that South Carolina strike the palmetto from her shield, and put in its place an overgrown, pug-nacious boy, doubling up his fists, with the motto "Hold me, or I will fight!" The substitute would be a very appropriate one; for during many years past she has been blustering continually, but whether with any real desire to fight, or merely for the purpose of being coaxed into good nature, is not very apparent. If with the latter object, it has entirely failed, for her pugnacity, whether real or assumed, has never awakened, we believe, any other feeling than pity or contempt.

THE PRESS AND THE THRONE.—Royalty now-a-days deifies its diadem to the Press. Some two months ago four or five London editors travelling in Denmark, arrived at the Castle of Fredericburg, near Elsinore, in the Island of Zealand, and expressed a desire to examine the edifice around which so many historic and traditional associations cluster. The King of Denmark was at the time occupying the Castle, and the major-domo told the visitors that they could not be admitted. But on the matter being reported to the King he forthwith gave orders that the editors should be invited to visit him in his private cabinet, where he received them with the greatest courtesy. At the termination of the interview, they were placed in charge of one of the royal household, who conducted them through the buildings and grounds, gave them a splendid breakfast, and finally sent them back to Elsinore in two of the King's carriages. Verily, as our friend of the New York Star observes, the pen of the public journalist is a wand of power.

Miss Lind has taken a house in Columbia street, Brooklyn, near Pierpoint, located on the Heights. It affords a splendid view of the city and bay.

President Fillmore, having been invited by the City authorities of Lowell to visit that city, has made a reply, declining, for the present, the invitation, but expresses a hope to do so in the course of the summer. In his reply he says, "I feel that my first duty is due to the country; and to this I am bound to sacrifice every consideration of personal convenience and pleasure. I trust the storm which threatened to overwhelm the Government, and array section against section, and brother against brother, in treasonable and fratricidal strife, has passed away. But the waters are still agitated, and it will take some time for the elements to subside."

A STATE STREET OPERATION.—The Boston correspondent of the Salem Gazette relates the following incident as having occurred in State street recently:

"An interesting discussion took place between a millionaire, (in State st. yesterday) and a gentleman of smaller means; the latter said to the former: 'Now, as you are one of the richest men of the city, why don't you do something for the poor and give them a part of your surplus capital?' He replied, 'I do my part every day. I give men pay for the work they do on my lands and houses.' 'Well,' said the gentleman, 'now there is a poor deserving man,' (pointing to a shabbily dressed person who was passing, with a sorrowful look upon his face which seemed to say 'I'm really destitute.') 'Well,' said the millionaire, 'I was seldom if ever known to contribute to any charitable purpose.' 'You give as much as you will,' said the other. 'I'll give ten dollars,' and accordingly 'forked over' the same, and the millionaire was unexpectedly 'stuck' but after some fumbling the money was produced, and twenty dollars handed to the poor man, who, after many thanks, went home with a rejoicing heart to his family."
